PUBLIC AUCTION.

To be sold, at public auction, at Northumberland court house, in the county of Northumberland, and state of Virginia, on TUESDAY, the fifth day of September next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon,

Five contiguous Plantations,
Amounting together to about 2700 Acres,

SITUATE on the river Potomac, and within about three miles of the court house. These estates formerly belonged to Presley Thornton, Esq. and are the same on which he lived. They have never been seen by either of the subscribers; but it is understood, that about 1700 acres of them are as valuable low grounds as any on the river, and a considerable part thereof heavily timbered. The uplands consist of about 1000 acres, and the whole is well calculated for the production of corn, wheat, tobacco, timothy, and small grain of all kinds, in great abundance. The waters are said to abound with excellent sh, oysters, and wild fowl. The water carriage is easy and convenient to Norfolk, Baimore, Alexandria, and the city of Washington; and as these estates possess several good mill seats, with an abundance of water nd a plentiful supply of timber, they must be very valuable.

The premises will be shewn to persons inclining to purchase, by Col. James Moore, who lives on them, or by Samuel Blackwell, Esq. who lives near to them; and the terms of payment may be known a sufficient time before the sale, by applying to either of them or to the subscriber in the city of Philadelphia.

TO CUPID.

Begone artful God bound with ribbons so gay,
Nor strike more a wound in my heart;
For no longer I'll list to thy love-warbling lay
That's left me such anguish and smart.

O had I but known what would be the result,
I ne'er should have listen'd to thee;
Who my promises, offers, and vows, didst insult,
And hast spoilt all my frolic and glee.

Then away, naughty Cupid, thou mischievous elf,
Whose sports are as light as a bubble;
And take with thee, sirrah, thy darts to thyself,
For thou shalt no more give me trouble.

And to Hymen, thy brother, this message convey,
Who is anxiously waiting for thee,
That he at his altar no longer need stay,
For there he will never see me.

Observations on the influence of Soil and Climate upon WOOL; from which is deduced a certain and easy method of improving the quality of English Clothing Wools, and preserving the health of Sheep; with hints for the management of Sheep after shearing: an enquiry into the structure, growth, and formation of wool and hair; and remarks on the means by which the Spanish breed of Sheep may be made to preserve the best qualities of its fleece unchanged in different climates.

By ROBERT BAKEWELL.

With occasional Notes and Remarks, by the RIGHT HON. LORD SOMERVILLE.

I have hitherto principally confined my observations to the native breed of sheep on our Island. It will be proper, before I conclude, to advert to the meritorious and successful attempts which have been made by his majesty, and by lord Somerville, and other distinguished characters, to improve the wools of England, by an intermixture of the Spanish breed of sheep wit South Down and other flocks. These experiments will, I have no doubt, not only increase the fineness, but the softness of English clothing wools, by increasing the quantity of yolk contained in the fleece. In the pure Spanish breed, for some time at least after their introduction, this supply of yolk is so plentiful, that the use of an ointment for the wool may not be necessary. I would however recommend, that immediately after shearing, the sheep should be rubbed on the back and sides with olive oil, lard and wax, to preserve them from cold and wet after they have been bared, and exposed to the injurious effects of this changeable climate. I have little doubt that this practice would improve and preserve the soundness of the wool. If they had confined their observations to the effects of climate on the fineness or coarseness of the hair, I should so far have agreed with them, that there are no causes operating in the nature of our own climate, to prevent wools being grown in our island, equal in this respect to those of Spain. There are, however, other qualities on which the external influences of climate and soil can be proved to effect a change by undeniable facts. These are constantly acting on the surface of the fleece, and claim the attention of the wool-grower.

The experiment of producing fine wool from Spanish sheep, has been fairly tried in Saxony for nearly half a century. I have had in my possession, and carefully examined, many hundreds of these fleeces, which equal in fineness the very finest Spanish wool I ever saw. The wool is true grown, viz. there is but a very small quantity of an inferior quality in any part of the fleece. It is also entirely free from a coarse silvery hair running through the fleece, common to many piles of Spanirh wool. It will spin finer, when carded, than Spanish wool, and is suited for light kerseymeres, pelisse cloths, &c. The price, if due allowance be made for extra waste and for the wool being unsorted, exceeds this year that the best Spanish wool. It is sold in England, at his time, for 5s. 3d. and 6s. 6d. per pound n the fleece, which is washed on the back f the sheep; but is cleaner than the geneal run of English fleeces. In this state, the average weight is nearly one pound and three quarters to two pounds. This may surely afford sufficient encouragement to those who are desirous of improving our fine clothing wools. With the above admissions, I must however observe, that in some valuable qualities, the wools of Saxony are inferior to the Spanish, and I have little doubt this is occasioned by the influence of climate. This wool is less sound in the staple than Spanish wool, nor will it make a cloth of equal firmness and durability. From frequent examination of Saxony fleeces, I am persuaded that their supply of yolk is not so copious as in the native Spanish sheep, nor is the wool grown so close upon the skin. In general appearances, these flocks nearly resemble those of the best Norfolk; they are much finer, but a good judge of wool would have no hesitation in saying they were grown on a soil and a climate nearly similar. Hence it may be fair to infer, that the soil and climate have effected a change, and assimilated them to other wool under the same influence. The want of soundness in the staple would be a great defect in the Saxon wool, for the general purposes of the cloth manufacturer. It may arise from occasional deficiency of food, from extremo cold, or from the fleeces being long and frequently exposed to rain.

To preserve all the best qualities of wool from the Spanish breed of sheep, it will be necessary to attend to three objects. The first in importance is the purity of the breed, which can only be preserved by the greatest care, and by the uicest judgment in selecting the rams and ewes. Secondly, to obseive that the fleece be covered by nature with a copious yolk; and where this is deficient, that it be supplied bp art: nor should we suffer the unctuous covering of the wool to be absorbed by a mixture with the soil on fallow lands, or washed away by the rain; to this the ointment will be less liable than the natural yolk. It is also necessary that the sheep be kept dry, and sheltered from the extremes of heat and cold. The third object is, to regulate the quantity of nourishment given to sheep.

FOREIGN.

VIA NEW-YORK.

LONDON, July 8—(evening)

A Gottenburg mail arrived this morning. Letters had been received there, stating, that the Austrians had been victorious in every quarter; that they were masters of Saxony and Franconia, and that the Duke of Brunswick had surrounded Magdeburgh.

The Entreponante is arrived at Plymouth with dispatches from Lisbon, which she left on the 27th ult. Sir A. Wellesley was said to be at Thomar.

Dutch papers to the 6th instant were received this morning, brought by a vessel arrived at Yarmouth yesterday. They contain the 21st bulletin of the French army, dated from Vienna on the 22d June. It contains no information of any fresh action. The effect produced by the Austrian bulletins may be judged of by the spleen which Bonaparte discovers against them. He states the losses sustained by the Austrians since the beginning of the campaign, at about 200,000, half the amount of the military force of the Austrian empire! The archduke Charles is said to have been beaten at Aspern by 30,000 men! One does not know which to admire most, the ill temper or the folly of this bulletin. If the French can beat the Austrians with one third of the force which the Austrians have, and if the Austrians have been so reduced since the commencement of the campaign, why has not Bonaparte renewed his attack upon them? One month has elapsed between the battle of Aspern and the date of this bulletin, and Bonaparte has been constantly watching the rise of the Danube—"The Danube has risen a foot, and it is feared it will rise higher!"—No, no! It is not the Danube, but the spirit of Germany—"the spirit of insurrection has risen a foot, and it is feared will rise still higher!" That is the rising that dismays him—the Danube he dreads is the blood that flows in the veins of the German people. He has roused them against him, and he sees a hostile population.

The 21st bulletin asserts what he knew to be false, that not a French regiment had been withdrawn from Spain except the imperial guard.

An article from Dusseldorff in the Royal Hague Gazette, announces that Bonaparte is only waiting for the junction of the Russians, to strike a decisive blow.

It should seem by accounts from Naples, as if general Stuart had embarked all the British troops in Sicily upon some expedition. They were to pass Naples about the 14th ult.

An express dispatched from the imperial head-quarters on the 16th inst. has brought the following intelligence.

The military movements of the grand armies are on the point of being recommenced. The emperor is merely waiting the arrival of 50,000 Russians, who are approaching Vienna by forced marches, to strike a decisive blow. They are to arrive at the same time with a Polish army, which, after having subdued all Gallicia, is advancing to form a junction with the grand French army.

The king of Westphalia has taken the field, and is marching in the direction of Leipsic to meet the enemy. The Westphalian force, joined by the Saxon troops, amounts to 15,000 men, and 35 pieces of ordnance. The king has established his head-quarters in Frankenhausen. On the 21st his majesty's patroles advanced to a considerable distance without falling in with the enemy. The troops entertain no other apprehension than that they shall not be able to overtake him.—Royal Amsterdam Gaz. July 5.

WARSAW, June 18.

Last night intelligence was received here by express, that the Polish gen. Scholnicki, on the 16th inst. defeated the Austrians near Sandomir. Their loss consists in 1200 prisoners, 2000 killed and wounded, and 4 pieces of cannon.

LEIPZIG, June 23.

Yesterday about 10,000 men passed by this town, who, we understand, will be followed by a much larger number. The duke of Brunswick arrived here yesterday, but immediately set out again in pursuit of the Saxons. A violent cannonade was heard this morning from the side of Lutzen.

NAPLES, June 14.

Several wretches lately landed by the English on the coast of Calabria, have been beaten and killed, or driven into the sea by the national guard. The English have embarked all the troops which they had in Sicily; we have just seen them pass, but are ignorant of their destination. At this day all Italy is delivered from the presence of the enemy's troops.

PARIS, June 28.

On the 22d, the following notification was published at Ludwigsburg, the residence of the king of Wirtemberg.

The entrance of a corps of Austrian troops into the country of Bayreuth, and that of another corps into Saxony, which has already penetrated into Thuringia, as also the continually increasing insurrection in the Voralberg and the Tyrol, which threatens the frontiers of this kingdom, have induced his majesty to resolve to increase his military force in order as much as possible to cover his states from any hostile attack, on any side whatever. His majesty has therefore ordered a part of the battalions of the militia to be formed; and several battalions of the depots to be organized; so that in less than eight days a corps of infantry of from 8 to 9000 men, including the regiments of the line already in the country, may be brought into the field."

DUTCH DECREE, June 30.

Art. 1. The list of articles allowed to be imported by the act of 31st March, shall be extended to the following: Rice, staves, bark and other drugs used in medicine; cottons, Georgia, Louisiana and Carolina; Java coffee and sugar from our colonies.

2. Besides certificates of origin, required by our former act, the Director of the Board of Trade shall appoint seven brokers to examine the goods, to ascertain if they are really the produce of our colonies, or of the United States; and for the better means of examination, all goods be unloaded in the royal stores.

3. A month from the date hereof, our director of the board of trade shall report to us, if it is adviseable to permit the continuation of these measures.

4. American vessels arriving within three months from the date hereof and those already in port, shall not be subject to the blockade decree, provided the same have not been in England, nor been visited by the enemy. All captains shall make declaration conformable to this article, and in case of prevarication, ship and cargo to be confiscated.

5. For as much as the cargoes appear to be conformable to our afore mentioned articles, the same shall be placed at the disposal of the proprietors or consignees: the sequestered goods that remain in the royal stores to be disposed of according to law.

IMPORTANT—IF TRUE!

[From Messrs. Russell and Cutler's Liverpool Correspondent.]

LIVERPOOL, July 9, 1809.

"LEITH, (Scotland) July 6. The Quail, lieutenant Osborn, has just arrived from Heligoland, which she left on Sunday. The commander reports, that while entering the harbor a messenger arrived from the seat of war with news of the Austrians having obtained a decisive victory over the French, the 28th June. Two marshals, 20 generals, and 40,000 men, killed wounded, and prisoners. Capt. Malcomb, who left Heligoland 5 hours after the Quail, brings a proclamation of the archduke Charles for a Te Deum for the victory."

A letter from Amsterdam, dated July 4, received per the Packet, arrived at New-York, says,

"The Friendship, from New-York, and Harmony, from Boston, captured by a French privateer, and brought into the Texel and taken from her by the boats of the Dutch men of war, who got possession of their papers, have been released by order of the king, the capture being declared illegal. It now depends on the construction of the decree of the 30th June, whether their cargoes can be sold, which is hoped will be permitted.

"The Pallas is arrived from Virginia."

MARRIED, at Ipswich (Mass.) Mark Ross, aged 19, to the BLOOMING Miss Betsy Freelock, aged 70!!

VALUABLE LAND
FOR SALE,

Distant 23 miles from Georgetown and Alexandria, 19 miles from Occoquan Mills, and twenty from Dumfries, and within two miles and a half of the Little River Turnpike Road. It consists of Five and Twenty Hundred acres, lying on the waters of Bull and Little Rockey runs, in the counties of Fairfax and Prince William. The quality of this land is excellent, and, to a grazier especially, would be a source of great emolument, from the quantity of low grounds: of which there is not less than five hundred acres, ready, from the strength of the soil, to be sowed in Timothy. This land is decidedly benefitted by the plaister of Paris. On it is a very good site for a mill, the stream being one of the most constant in that part of the country. There are about 800 acres in wood, heavily timbered. The improvements are, a dwelling house newly fitted up, consisting of two rooms below stairs, with a store room and two convenient closets, three lodging rooms above stairs, an excellent cellar, a kitchen, corn house, meat house and stables. Likewise the overseer's house, one in each county, with other necessary houses for negroes, &c.

Between 2 and 300 acres in addition, for sale, in Prince William county, on Bull Run near its conflux with Occoquan. This land lies about 10 or 11 miles from the Occaquan mills, and has nearly one third in woods—its quality is equal to any in its immediate neighborhood.

Persons disposed to purchase may be supplied on the first named tract with a large stock of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, farming utensils. The subscriber willing to emigrate southwardly will dispose of the above mentioned property on the most reasonable terms.

Information respecting the property may be had by application to the honorable Judge Washington of Mount Vernon, H. S. Turner, Esquire, of Jefferson county, or in the absence of the subscriber to Bernard Hooe, jun. Esq. living near the premises.

TO MILLERS.

I HAVE invented a machine called a Wheat Rubber, for which I obtained a patent on the first day of this month. This machine may be seen in operation in the mill of Nathaniel Ellicott, Occoquan. Those millers who feel an interest in investigating its merit and have not an opportunity of visiting Occoquan, may be fully informed by application to Mr. Ellicott by letter. My Wheat-Rubber, I do verily believe is upon entire new principles, the cost of erecting it a trifle, the materils of which it is composed easily attainable in any part of our country, and the plan simple in the extreme: any workmanof common capacity will be enabled to erectit from description only. Practical millers know, that in a great proportion of the wheat that comes to market (from the manner it is stacked in the fields by the farmers and exposed to the weather) a number of sprouted and unsound grains mingle with the mass, and has eluded the ingenuity of the miller to separate it from the sound grain—they also know those unsound grains injure materially the taste and color of flour—my machine not only frees the wheat of stone, onion, cockle, dirt, &c. but does absolutely take from it every unsound grain, from what cause soever it may have been injured, as my machine will not let any unsound wheat pass it—millers may have their screen wire much finer than hitherto used, and thereby save considerably—it will also be found that the grain in passing the rubber, is polished, and that even the eyes of the wheat is picked perfectly clean of dust or dirt. Some instances having occurred of certificates being obtained, saying much more in favor of a new invention than the public are willing to admit after trial—I hope it will be a sufficient apology for my taking a different course. My price for the privilege of using the rubber is fifty dollars for each prir of wheat stones the mill contains.

Letters direeted to me post paid shall be attended to.

FOR SALE,
The following VALUABLE PROPERTY.

A TRACT OF LAND,

CONTAINING 1600 acres, more or less, called and known by the name of Bull Toe Marsh, lying within 12 miles of Winchester, in the county of Frederick, in the state of Virginia. On about 900 acres of this tract there are several very well improved farms tenanted for life or lives, the balance free of all incumbrance, including an excellent merchant mill built with stone, the whole yielding an annual rent of about 800 dollars. Most of this tract is very fertile, well watered and all abundance of timber. It is generally rolling, but part of it is hilly and stoney, full of lime stone. It will be laid off to suit purchasers.

Another tract, called Hollis's Marsh, lying in the county of Westmoreland, containg about 2800 acres, bordering on the river Potomac, adjoining the Stratford estate and the late residence of Richard Lee, esq. of Chantilly. On the estate are a number of farms and tenants at will. Part of this land is extremely fertile, and all of it as good as the lands generally are in that part of the country. The Marsh affords excellent range for stock, and is happily situated for fish and fowls of which that river abounds, and must be a desirable estate to any person who may choose to reside in that part of the country. It will however be laid off to suit purchasers.

The above lands are held by deeds of purchase duly recorded in the general court.

Another tract containing 993 acres, lying in the county of Berkeley, adjoining the residence of Rawleigh Colston, esq of which about 660 acres is leased for the balance of the life of an aged man, the rest tenanted at will. This land is situate in what is called the big bend of Potomac, and borders on it. In point of fertility it is esteemed inferior to none in that part of the state and is held by deed from James Marshall, esq.

Seven other tracts containing 1000 acres each, adjoining each other in the county of Mason, within a few miles of the Ohio, between the two Kanhawa's on the waters of Sandy Creek, which runs through a considerable part of it. It adjoins the lands of general Washington, and the late Benjamin Harrison, jun esq. A large portion of it is rich bottom and the upland of very good quality. It is held under the original patentee by deeds duly recorded in the general court.

Five full & complete Shares in the Dismal Swamp Company.

Upwards of 16,000 acres of Lands, being very old military rights, lying in the states of Ohio, Kentucky and the Indiana territory, chiefly patented in my own name and ready to be shewn.

A more particular description of the foregoing property may be seen by applying to Mr. Thomas Taylor, of Richmond, who is authorized to make contracts, or to myself in Alexandria. The titles are all undoubted, and the terms proposed are, one fourth in cash at the time of conveyance, the balance in three instalments, the last two to bear interest from the date. Any species of the public stock and of the different Banks in the United States of Insurance Companies—of the Potomac Bridge and Turnpike Companies will be received in payment according to their fair value. Ground rents in the city of Richmond and town of Alexandria, or Houses and Lots, will likewise be received in payment according to such rates as may be agreed upon.

John Hopkins.

THOMAS RHODES, respectfully informs the citizens of Alexandria and the public, that he will open A HOUSE OF ENTERTAINMENT on the first day of July next, in a commodious and airy new house on Prince-street, sign of the Eagle, a few doors above Thomas Swann's dwelling.—He intends to keep a constant supply of the best LIQUORS and PROVISIONS, and will accommodate travellers and others on such moderate terms as to make it an object to call on him. He will be provided with a careful hostler and has good stabling for horses.

The situation is superior to any in town for the accommodation of travellers, it being out of the way of bustle and there is a pump of the best water at the door.
